

Andrea Covini Dorfmann joined Zurich Insurance Group in 2015, held positions in Group Risk Management and is currently an executive in the Group Mergers and Acquisitions function.

Andrea has more than 25 years of international experience in the Financial industry. She worked in Buenos Aires, Argentina for Credit Lyonnais in Corporate Banking, as Economist for Buenos Aires Stock Exchange and for Thomson Reuters, company where she worked for 13 years. In 2001 joined Thomson Reuters Headquarters in New York, USA and held different positions until 2010 when she was offered a position in Thomson Reuters London, UK held until she moved to Zurich, Switzerland.

Andrea is an Argentinean and Italian citizen, holds a Bachelor's degree in Economics from Universidad Católica Argentina and a Master's in Mathematics of Finance from Columbia University in New York, USA.